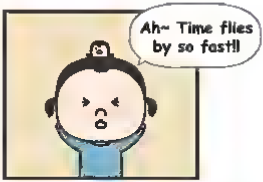
Return

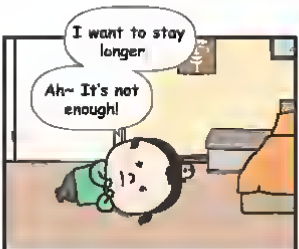


It was time to go back to England.

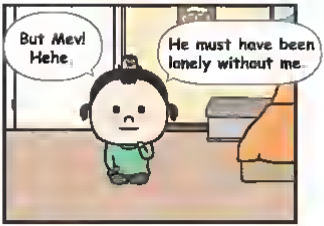
I spent a lovely time with my family.

I met the people who
I was looking forward to seeing.

And I made many good memories with the fan through the book event.



Every time, I feel like this.



But I feel excitement that there is someone who is waiting for me desperately.

So, I returned to England.

After a 12-hour flight...

When I arrived at Heathrow airport,
my heart started to beat fast.

My excited steps were second to none.

And when I finally passed
the 'orrivals' sign.

I saw mony people who are woiting for their someone.

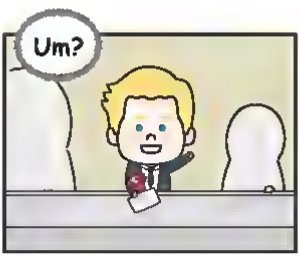
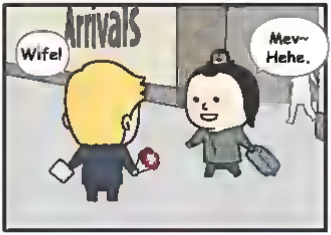
And I found Mev's face among them.





I was happy.
I was so happy.

How much soju* did you bring with you?

* Korean liquor